

VOICES UNBOUND: FIGHTING CENSORSHIP AND RECLAIMING THE PUBLIC SQUARE

Wednesday, March 12
2:10pm – 3:25pm

The Millennium Hilton
One UN Plaza
Manhattan Room on 2nd Floor

About

For the past years, conservative voices have been cast aside, ridiculed, silenced, and caricatured as "anti-intellectual" on social media, college campuses, major institutions, and even at the United Nations. In an era where social conservative speech is hastily labeled as "misinformation" and "disinformation", this event will discuss the various ways in which the woke ideology managed to infiltrate and cast aside dissident voices in favor of uniformity of thought and speech and how that has negatively impacted the public square. The event will also address how Trump's presidency could open up new possibilities to restore freedom of speech for conservatives.

Host

International Youth Coalition,
a Center for Family and Human Rights (C-Fam) program

