Subject: Discrimination against pro-life and pro-family groups by NGO/CSW

Dear Excellency,

On behalf of over 600 organizations from 119 countries who work to promote the protection of life and the family, we appeal to you to ensure that organizations that hold traditional views about the family and women's issues are not discriminated against in UN debates.

The NGO Committee on the Status of Women is blocking non-governmental organizations that do not subscribe to progressive Western views about the family and women's issues from participating in the NGO/CSW Forum, including many organizations with ECOSOC status.

For many years, our organizations successfully hosted multiple events through the NGO/CSW without any objections or questions about the content of the events. Even though pro-life and pro-family organizations did not endorse the policies of many organizations who lead NGO/CSW we always felt a diversity of views was welcome by NGO/CSW and that our contributions were worthwhile and valuable. We are sad to report that this is no longer true.

In recent years, some of our organizations have been denied applications for NGO/CSW parallel events on the grounds that they did not "align with the values" of CSW/NGO. This year, NGO/CSW went one step further, requiring any organization wishing to host a parallel event through NGO/CSW to agree to uphold a document titled "Safety Guidelines and Principles."

The document includes highly controversial commitments, including promising to "welcome, value and revere an intersectional approach to feminism" which includes LGBT issues. It requires organizations to acknowledge that "transphobia" exists, and it prohibits "harassment" such as "offensive comments related to gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation."

These standards cross a line. They are not about protection; rather they seek to ban the participation of anyone who does not agree with the homosexual and transgender agenda and modern Western feminist ideology. This would exclude hundreds of millions of women from around the world. Under these standards, denying that a man can become a woman would be deemed harassment. Similarly, refusing to use a person's "preferred pronouns" could also be deemed a violation of the harassment policy. NGO/CSW has erected a barrier to participation against any organization that holds pro-life or pro-family views.

This is completely unacceptable. It is a troubling development and a break with the CSW/NGO tradition of openness to an eclectic diversity of views. We should expect many disagreements on a wide range of subjects at the United Nations, and we should expect and welcome when members of civil society express themselves with candor.

As you know, NGO/CSW is a semi-official extension of the CSW secretariat to promote the Commission on the Status of Women among civil society groups and facilitate their contributions to the work of the commission.

Because NGO/CSW acts as a surrogate for UN Women in convening civil society for the commission, we believe it is urgent for UN Women and the Bureau of the Commission to confront NGO/CSW about its decision to ban organizations with traditional views on the family and women's issues and to ask them to adopt viewpoint-neutral safety guidelines that will allow them to participate in the NGO/CSW Forum as they have for over twenty years.

Please be assured of our continued interest in your work during CSW67. We stand by to assist you as appropriate.
